
near the cliff $\mu(n)$ is a time average over a metastable process that switches regimes, not the mean of a stationary law